About Montsand

Montsand's occasion wear is another signature that employs traditional craftsmanship while exuding unwavering modernity. From a dress adorned with 7,200 pearls to a frock pleated and hand-smocked to mold to the wearer's bodice, to a veil with over 2,000 hand-pressed flowers, a skirt with 2,400 hand-sewn crystals, and a gown covered in tens of thousands of lace segments—these designs are nothing short of couture standards. What makes them stand out even more is their embodiment of what makes fashion feel current.

The essential colour palette, consisting of neutral tones, such as black, white, nude, and grey, is masterfully blended with the new classics of pastel green, gold, muted pink, and baby blue, resulting in a beautiful balance of masculine and feminine, timeless and novel.

Through La Pureza, Montsand aims to send a positive message to the women who have loved the brand from the beginning—that the purest form of tranquillity is balance, that the purest form of strength is self-love, and that the purest form of beauty is impermanence.
